Civic Engagement Grant Application

Fine Arts Careers Services (FACS) and the College of Fine Arts (COFA) are pleased to announce the Glenn & Louan Rogers Civic Engagement Grant. This $2,500 grant offers one undergraduate COFA student the opportunity to propose and conduct an arts-based civic engagement project that serves the UT or Austin community. We are seeking a broad range of project proposals. Be creative with your ideas! This is a competitive grant and the recipient must have prior experience with leadership and civic engagement activities. Groups will also be considered.

Eligibility

- Be an undergraduate student in the College of Fine Arts
- Have demonstrated a commitment to leadership and civic engagement at UT and/or within the community

To Apply

- Submit the attached application
- Submit a projected detailed budget
- Submit an up-to-date resume
- Submit a 750-1,000 word proposal that explains your project, identifies the population the project will serve, explains the benefits to the target population and your plan for executing the project.
- Submit three letters or recommendation. At least one letter must be written by a COFA faculty member and one letter must be written by an individual not affiliated with UT Austin. The letters should discuss on your leadership and civic engagement activities.

Students who are awarded a scholarship must:

- Provide COFA with receipts and documentation of all related expenses
- Write a thank you letter to the donor
- Implement and conduct the project sometime between April 1 – August 31, 2017
- Write a 500 word report on the success of the project once it has concluded
- Give a presentation on your project at a FACS event

Deadlines

February 15, 2017

Decisions will be announced in early March
